PHILOSOPHY

We believe that each child is unique and that children learn best through their natural curiosity and play. The philosophy of our West End Home Child Care Services is to recognize the needs of all children and to guide them towards their natural creativity and to develop sensitive individuals who are eager to learn. We believe that early childhood education should provide children with the tools and skills necessary for them to meet the challenges of a complex world. We believe that childhood should be cherished, and children should live as children today if they are to become fulfilled adults tomorrow. By providing a safe, stimulating environment, our program strives to meet the needs of each individual child's social, emotional, physical, and intellectual development.

West End Home Child Care Services is an inclusive childcare setting. However, the structure of some buildings and houses do not allow wheelchair accessibility. We enroll families with a variety of abilities and disabilities. To meet our children's needs, we seek assistance from the City's consulting and other agencies.

West End Home Child Care Services welcomes and supports children from all kinds of families and facilitates an empathetic and nurturing environment to give every possible opportunity to the children to keep their unique identity and develop to their fullest potential.

1. PROGRAM STATEMENT

West End Home Child Care Services offers a program that is consistent with the Ministry of Education's ("Ministry") policy statement on programming, pedagogy, and curriculum. The Ministry documents we reference in our program include the following:

Early Learning for Every Child Today (E.L.E.C.T)

How Does Learning Happen! Ontario's Pedagogy for Early Years

Think Feel Act: Lessons from Research about Young Children

West End Home Child Care Services is committed to providing pedagogical, high-quality childcare, in a child centered, loving, nurturing, and flexible home setting.

We perceive children as active, competent, capable, and curious learners that are rich in potential. Our play-based program is well rounded and geared to meet the ever-growing and changing needs of each individual child, giving him or her the security of belonging.

Home providers come from different backgrounds, along with parents, and other community resources, and mixed age groups of children in the home. This enables us to develop a program that provides experiences and environments to engage the children in active, positive, creative, and meaningful exploration of play and inquiry.

To reach our goals, the home providers, with the assistance and input of competent, well trained, and experienced staff, and within collaboration and ongoing communication with families as experts knowing their children better than anyone else, enrich our program to nurture the children's health, safety, and nutrition to support their sense of well-being.

For a child with diverse abilities to function and participate in a meaningful and purposeful manner, taking into consideration the child as a whole, West End Home Child Care Services have resources available to the West End Home Child Care Services/ provider including but not limited to Resource Consultants, Resource Consultation staff, Speech and Language Pathologists, and other community programs. The West End Home Child Care Services will add the following supports, aids, adaptations and or modifications to the daily program, physical, social, and learning environments. Our providers' weekly program plan is developed through observing the children and their interests, with the parent's input and are adaptable to various ages. This helps the children to develop strong relationships with each other, in a positive, learning environment. Positive interaction and good communication support children's ability to self-regulate and express themselves in their own unique ways. The program incorporates child-initiated activities daily, both indoors and outdoors, as well as active and quiet time, considering the individual needs of the children.

Our knowledgeable and experienced home consultants, in partnership with parents and the community, are there to encourage and assist providers to create a positive environment for the children.

All home consultants, providers, students/volunteers, trainees, or anyone else residing in the house where home day care is provided, shall review, and sign off on the program statement policy prior to beginning interaction with the children, or when substantive changes have been made, and annually afterwards. Each record of the review will be signed by the person who conducted the review. All information will be documented, and records will be retained on file for a minimum of three years.

Our providers encourage children to interact and communicate in a positive way by modeling appropriate interactions with children and families. They support the children's ability to self-regulate by providing positive options and solutions, also by giving the children the personal space needed to reflect. They foster the children's play and enquiry by providing appealing materials that spark the children's natural curiosity. Open ended questions are asked, and the children are given time to explore their environment. The providers always ensure the health and safety of the children by scanning the room, ensuring all unsafe objects are removed immediately, and implementing the guidelines set out by Toronto Public Health. The children's well-being is nurtured by providing healthy meals and snacks, as well as incorporating opportunities and time to build self-help skills. In promoting the health, safety, nutrition, and well-being of the children, we provide child initiated and adult supported experiences that encourage positive communication. Our program is consistent with our program statement on programming pedagogy.

Home consultants help the providers to develop weekly program plans by incorporating their knowledge of "Early Learning for Every Child Today", "How Does Learning Happen" and "Think Feel Act. They also help in developing a nutrient-rich menu plan according to Public Health requirements.

The provider, along with the assistance of the Home Consultant, Resource Consultation staff, Speech and Language Pathologists, and the parent, will develop a program geared to the specific child. The provider will use resources within the community such as community centres, drop-incentres, and libraries to enhance the program. She/he will modify the floor space by moving furniture to adapt the environment to the child's needs. The provider also will revise her/ his program and provide individual activities to meet the needs of the child with diverse abilities.

We welcome families to participate and share ideas with us, accompany providers in activities and summer outings, and by attending our workshops. Our Home Consultants communicate with parents regularly by phone.

We encourage families to share their views on our Program Statement along with our performance and strategies used when implementing it in an open dialogue, on our quarterly phone calls, as well as by placing comments in our parent feedback survey found on our web site.

The survey will provide us with the inside to how can we improve, change, or adjust our program and provide the best quality care for children.

In supporting our staff and providers', as well as others who interact with the children, ongoing educational opportunities for professional development are offered monthly by the West End Home Child Care Services. Providers and Home Consultants, as well as others who interact with the children, must attend six workshops per year offered by the West End Home Child Care Services or community workshops. Parents are welcome to attend too.

All providers, employees, trainees, or anyone else residing in the house where home day care is provided, shall review and sign off on the Program Statement and implementation policy prior to employment, or when substantive changes have been made, and annually afterwards. These documents, as well as the West End Home Child Care Services' Policies, Program Statement, and the Program Statement Implementation Policy set out the guidelines for staff how to conduct themselves as professionals. These documents also provide information on how to build and nurture relationships in inclusive settings and how to support various behaviors. 4. WAIT LIST POLICY AND PROCEDURE

The West End Home Child Care Services maintains a waiting list for all interested families. Parents or guardians are required to provide contact and child/ren information to be placed on the wait list. The wait list is organized monthly (by the date childcare is required). Parents need to choose a month they will require care and remember which month they have chosen. If parents choose to change this date, they are required to inform the West End Home Child Care Services to update the wait list.

We serve children in sequence of first come, first serve. Priority for placement is determined according to the date the parents or guardians called requesting childcare. When a space becomes available, we will call all families interested in the spot.

The space is given to the first parent or guardian who commits to taking the available spot. Placement of a child on the waiting list is free of charge.

Priority for openings is given to families that have children (siblings) enrolled at the West End Home Child Care Services and as well as age acceptance according to the provider's space availability. If you have twins, it may be necessary to enroll one child first and then wait for the next available spot for the other or enroll them in different homes until they are able to transfer to the same home.

The West End Home Child Care Services will update the waiting list by checking in with the parents periodically. If the West End Home Child Care Services does not have space to offer once the month arrives for which the family requested space, your name will automatically drop from the waiting list unless the family requests staying on for future openings.

The West End Home Child Care Services will not be charging parents a fee or deposit for the placement of their child on a waiting list for a spot in a home day care.

Parents may inquire about their child's status on the waiting list at any time. The list will be made available to them so that they can see their child's position on the waiting list. The names and information of other families will be blocked out to ensure the privacy and confidentiality of the children listed on it.
